PREPARATION BEFORE COMING TO CHINA

1.1 IMPORTANT DOCUMENTS

Before arriving at the university, please prepare the following documents:

1 Admission Notice (Photocopy, NO original copy)

2 Visa Application for Study in China (JW202/201 Form) (Photocopy, NO original copy)

3 Passport (original and photocopy). If passport has been renewed after application, be prepared to show both the old and new passport upon registration at UESTC. It is recommended to bring 8 recently taken passport-style photos (2 inches, with a white background), which may be required for school administrative formalities.

4 Students under 18 years old should provide a “China Guardian Certificate” (to be obtained once in China). Chinese name: 在华监护人公证书.

5 Highest diploma and degree certificate (original copy)

6 Foreigner Physical Examination Form.

* Note: In addition to the above documents, other materials may be required for each individual depending on the degree or non-degree program. Please refer to relevant notices received before entering the university.

1.2 VISA ISSUES

According to related regulations, international students coming to study in China should apply for an X1 visa (for a study period of more than 180 days), or an X2 visa (for a study period of less than 180 days). Without the correct student visa, students will not be able to register at the university. Students holding an X1 visa should apply for a residence permit within 30 days after entering China.

International students coming to study in China should apply for a Chinese student visa at the Chinese Embassy or Consulate in their country of nationality or country of residence. Applying for a Chinese student visa requires supplying the Admission Notice, valid passport, the Visa Application for Study in China (JW202/201 Form), and any additional documents requested by the Chinese Embassy or Consulate.

Contact information for Chinese Embassies and Consulates can be found through the website of the Chinese Ministry of Foreign Affairs:

<https://www.fmprc.gov.cn/eng/zwjg/>

Visa Application

According to Chinese law, it is not possible to apply for a visa or change visas by entering Chinese Mainland using a visa-free entry. Do not use a visa-free entry to enter into China.

01. For students applying for a visa from outside of China, please carefully research visa types, and read the description below:

a. X1 Visa: The X1 visa generally permits only one entry, and students must register at the university within 30 days after entry in order to apply for the required residence permit, otherwise it constitutes illegal residence. Since the university does not accept students registering in advance of the scheduled date, and it usually takes 3-5 working days to prepare the residence permit application, it is suggested that international students holding an X1 visa should have at least one week remaining on their visa before its expiry date at the time of registration at the university.

b. X2 Visa: The number of entries and the duration of stay permitted per entry are both indicated on the X2 visa. Once international students on an X2 visa enter the country, they should keep in mind the permitted duration of their stay on their visa and must register at the university within the time limit specified.

 Please note that entry into Chinese Mainland from Hong Kong S.A.R., Macao S.A.R., or Chinese Taiwan is considered as one entry.

02.Regarding visa collection: When picking up one's passport containing the visa for China, please ensure that the Embassy or Consulate returns the original copy of the Admission Notice and the Visa Application for Study in China (JW202/201 Form). These are important and required documents for international students for their study, residence permit application and other procedures whilst in China.

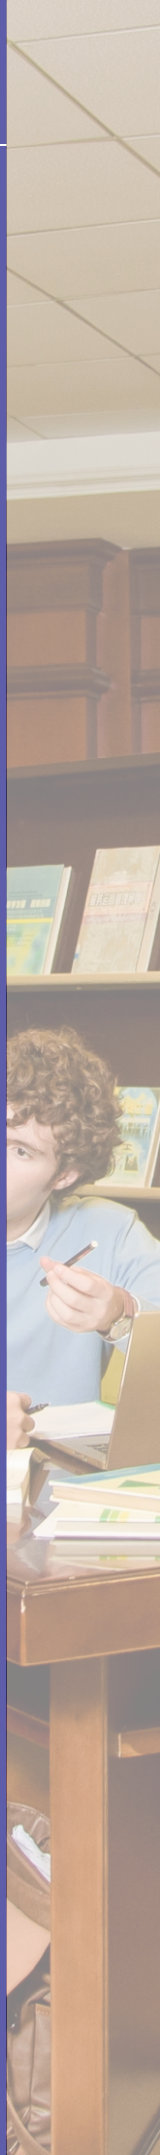

Passport Nationality Used at Registration

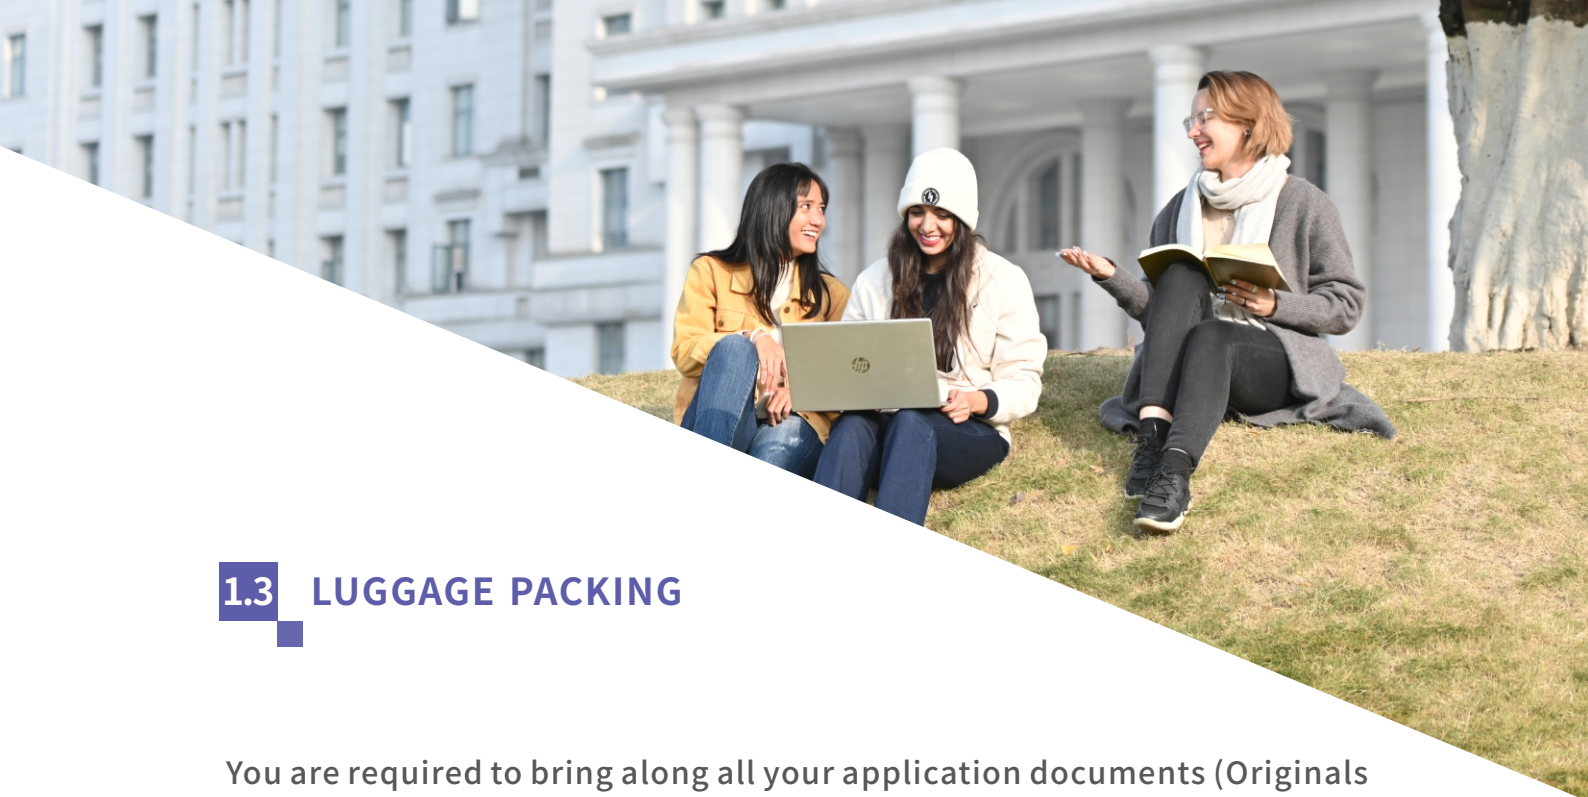

01. The nationality of the passport used by the international student when registering at the university should be consistent with the nationality listed when applying to study at the university, otherwise they will not be able to register.

02. For international students who have both foreign nationality and a residence identity from Hong Kong, Macao or Chinese Taiwan, if they applied to the university under their foreign nationality they must not register at the university using travel documents for Hong Kong, Macao and Chinese Taiwan (such as the Mainland Travel Permit for Hong Kong and Macao Residents and the Mainland Travel Permit for Taiwan Residents).

Visa Breaches and Penalties

It is illegal to stay in China after a visa, stay permit or residence permit has expired. Those committing such an offense will be subject to a fine of 500 RMB per day and will face detainment or deportation
